A LARGE LAMPSHADE IN WIRE AND FABRIC CREATES A VISUAL IMPACT

Iberian were tasked to design and create four very large two-tiered scalloped lampshades to fill a ceiling space in a Hilton Hotel breakfast area.

Initial concept was to manufacture from brass and glass, pushing the budget beyond what was available.

Working with Hilton's Design Team - Kokonut Lighting and ourselves developed a version utilising traditional lampshade materials.

Following client approval, we manufactured a small prototype to prove the viability of our design concept. From this we moved on to the full-size lights whilst ensuring feedback from the designer was implemented throughout the build process.

We delivered a unique product on time and within budget that was easy to install into the area and weighing far less than the original brass and glass design.

In creating these bespoke items, we broke new ground. - To our knowledge a lampshade with framework of this complexity had never been successfully matched to a CNC cut lampshade panel.

Bespoke

Play of Brilliants:

the use of accent lighting to create visual interest and drama in a space.*

Bespoke lighting undoubtedly enhances any project, few interior designers realise the power of bespoke items within a lighting scheme.

Internationally renowned Helen Green Design created a stunning scheme.

Their signature style being effortless sophistication and attention to detail, married with the full design clout of Nulty Bespoke, it should come as no surprise that this project pulled out all the stops and pushed skillsets of all the way.

Hand-blown decorative glass combined with precision engineered brass in a “playful” arrangement. The feature’s main support was formed by the hand of our master blacksmith and adorned with hand forged and engraved leaves.

The lamps nested in 3D printed housings within the turned brass, fixings were a mix of silver-soldered joints and carefully concealed grub screws.

This seriously custom-made masterpiece is a brilliant example of concept, design & manufacture working in harmony.

A jewel in the crown and yet another award-winner for Helen Green Design and Nulty Bespoke.

Acoustic Lighting

“BUILDINGS ARE ‘HUMANE’ ONLY WHEN THEY PROMOTE PEACEFUL HUMAN CO-EXISTENCE.”
- FREI OTTO

When we meet in open spaces, outside or in, the place comes alive with a buzz. Socialising, negotiating, meeting, working, entertaining comes with background noise. Science calls this “anthropogenic noise”. Ever since humans have had meeting spaces, we have been creating ways of controlling sound. From stone circles to amphitheatres and from large tapestries to fabric wallpapers we have been manipulating sound for centuries.

The Iberian Lighting range of ‘Hush’ shades reduce noise using sound absorbing materials such as felt. Pick from a range of colours, marry them to contrasting stitching, frames and cable for a fresh look or even specify a recycled PET felt to show off your sustainability credentials.

We are happy to design ‘Hush’ shades to suit your space and needs. Available in square or round and in small medium or large size as well as bespoke options.

Printed lampshades

There are thousands of fabrics. Most can be turned into a lampshade.

Add wallpaper into the fabric mix and the options multiply to almost unbelievable numbers, the only limitation being the availability of suitable papers in usable widths.

To assist client requests for custom artwork, our in-house print team use the latest wide format printers and expertise to achieve stunning individually designed results.

Colour specifics such as Pantone and RAL colours are readily achievable. We have local artists who work with us and can assist whenever required, you can trust your branding will be achieved with a bespoke printed lampshade for that highly individualised look.
